

Bio for Ray Cunningham

Ray Cunningham is manager of records services at the University of Illinois Foundation in Urbana, Illinois. He has been a records manager for over 30 years. Previously he was records manager at the University of Utah from 1980 – 1985 and founded the records management program at Dartmouth College in Hanover, New Hampshire. He was corporate records manager at the Midwest ISO, a federally chartered independent electrical transmission operator in Indianapolis, and was employed by Information International Associates in Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Ray was a subject matter expert for CompTIA in Oakbrook Terrace, Illinois for the latest version of the CDIA+ examination. He has been teaching CDIA+ courses for four years.

Ray holds two bachelor's degrees and a master's degree, all from the University of Utah. He is a Certified Archivist, a Certified Records Manager, a Certified Document Imaging Architech, and holds AIIM's master certificate in Electronic Records Management and Enterprise Content Management. He is a member of ARMA International, AIIM and the Association of Information Privacy Professionals (AIPP). In 2007 he received his Certified Information Privacy Professional certification. Ray regularly teaches document imaging and information privacy.

Ray is elected to the village board of Homer Illinois and serves on the Champaign County Lincoln Bicentennial Museum Committee. Ray is a frequent consultant to corporations, the University of Illinois, and local government on records retention, privacy and records best practices.